And the Brooklyns Tte Them by Defeating the Philadelphias in the Eleventh Inning-Clevelands Win a Close Contest from St. Louis, While Pittsburg is Easy for Cincinnati-Boston Wins from Washington and Chiengo Beats Louisville.

Small scores were the rule in the League games played yesterday, five of the six contests being won by a single run. The New Yorks lost a pitchers' battle at Baltimore, and thereby ropped to a tie with the Brooklyns, who defeated the Philadelphias in the eleventh inning at Eastern Park. The Baltimores tied the Pittsburghs for second place, as the latter fell easy victims to Buck Ewing's Cincinnatis. The Clevelands, meanwhile, strengthened their lead to eighteen points by taking a close game from St. Louis. The Bostons won from the Washingtons by a run and are close behind the leaders. Chicago defeated the Louisvilles again, and for the present are safe in sixth place. The results:

In their half of the sixth the Ealtimores were helped by a decision of Emelie to two runs. McGraw bunted the ball foul three times. The third one Emelie called a foul, despite the stout kick of Doyle and Meekin. McGraw finally reached first on balls, and, after Keeler had gone out on a fly to Burns, Jennings hit a hot one to short, which bounded high in the air from Fuller's hand between right and centre. By daring base running McGraw came all the way from first to the plate, sliding around Farrell, while Jennings reached third on the throw. Then Kelley knocked out a single, and Jennings came home with what proved to be the winning run. In the next inning Stafford, the first man up, got first on balls, but left his base while Carey had the ball, Burns, the coacher, telling him it was in Clarkson's possession. In the night the hopes of the visitors rose again. After Murnby had been thrown out by Jennings, Doyle trotted to first on balls, and both runners were safe on Glesson's muff of a ball thrown by McGraw from Burns's bat. Stafford then hit a hot one to Glesson, who, with Jennings and Cary, retired the runners. in their half of the sixth the Ealtimores were to Gleason, who, with Jennings and Cary, retired the runners.

A peculiar feature was the running down of McGraw, who had gotten to first on a bunt and to second on Keeler's sacriface. Jennings then hit to Murphy, and the whole team were kept going to catch McGraw between second and third. Finally the ball was muffed, and McGraw got back safely to the base. Jennings, however, had meanwhile gone to the bag, and McGraw was obliged to start off again. He was finally disposed of by Doyle. The score:

BROOKLYN, 3; PHILADELPHIA, 2.

Two thousand persons witnessed a great eleven inning game at Eastern Park yesterday. The Quakers gave another clever exhibition, and really deserved to win, but when victory was in their grasp Taylor lost his conning, and the home team by slow degrees tied the score in the ninth liming, and scored the winning run in the eleventh. For seven innings the home players not only failed to score, but not a base hit was made by them. The Quakers' error column was clean up to that stage of the game, and some of the plays that were made by Sullivan and Cross were so finely executed that the home rooters forgot themseives and cheered the me rooters forgot themseives and cheered the Thompson was the first batter to step to the plate in the second inning. He hit a short fly to left field which Corroran got under in good style, but which he unexpectedly dropped. Thompson getting to second base. Cross flied out to Anderson, but Chemeats sent the bail past Dally for one base, which allowed Thompson to score the inter run of the game. Clements opened the fifth inning with a line drive to centre. The bail isounded over Gridin's head, and before it was sent back to the diamond Clements was resting safely on third base. Sullivan was easily thrown out at first by Corcoran and Boyle filed out to Anderson. Clements should have scored on the catch, but left the base too quickly, and thereby missed the chance. Taylor, however, succeeded in pushing the bail past second base, and Clements trotted across the plate with the Quascers' last run.

Corcoran began the eighth uning with a fast grounder to left field, the first hit made off Taylor. Taylor threw wildly to second, and forcoran journeyes to third base. Gram's loud was caught by Taylor, but it was the means of allowing Corcoran to score. Lachance drew a base on bails in the linth, and moved up to third on Anderson's pretty two-barger. Daly sent a long fly to Turner, Lachance cooring. The Brooklyns had chances to win in the ninth and tenh mining, but the hitters failed to hit. In the eleventh Anderson again hit safely, and Daly sacrificed. Corcoran ironglit in the winning run by sending the bail over Reilly's head. The score:

M'GRAW IS AFTER DAVIS TEMPLE CUP AGREEMENT RESULTS

IN A PRETTY ROW.

The Baltimore Third Baseman Attaches The New York Club's Receipts for the Amount He Claims that Davis Ower Him-The New York Player Forced to Leave the Monumental City to Avoid Personal Service-History of the Trouble

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12 .- George Davis did not play at third base for the New Yorks to-day, and thereby hangs a tale. It had been currently reported that he had had some words with Man-ager Doyle, and had left the club for home because of the quarrel. The New York players, however, denied this, Business Manager Watkins's explanation being that he had some finan-cial matters to attend to in Philadelphia. The true explanation is probably that Davis jumped town in order to avoid a personal service over an attachment which had been sworn out by McGraw against the New York Club's receipts in to-day's game for the share claimed to be due McGraw out of the receipts of last year's Temple Cup games. Davis got wind of McGraw's intentions in some way, and quietly left town last night.

Kelley and Gleason stated to-day that they had made a settlement with Rusie and Meekin, respectively, for their share of the Temple Cup receipts. Keeler could get no satisfaction from Doyle, and will wait until next year when, if a settlement is not made in the interim, he will proceed legally against Doyle.

The trouble between the New York and Baitimore players over the division of the Temple Cup receipts began when the New Yorks reached the Monumental City during the first week in October ready to play the series, ruled that the receipts should be divided on the basis of 65 per cent to the winners and 35 per cent, to the losers, the Baltimores refused to play the games unless the New Yorks agreed to a fifty and fifty division. This proposition was repeatedly refused by the New Yorks, and even when the League committee ordered the teams to play the series according to the rules or the cup would be withdrawn and no games would be sanctioned, the Baltimore players refused to meet the New Yorks at all.

On Wednesday night, before the first game was played, several of the players of both teams "got together" and, according to the best of authority, agreed to make a private settlement on a half-and-half pasts. It was stated at the time by one of the New York players to THE SUN man that Davis agreed to divide with McGraw, Kelley made arrange-ments to do the same with Rusie, while Meekin promised to split with Gleason, and Doyle with Keeler, When the teams took the field the next day, Thursday, there was a long delay. The Baltimores refused to

was a long delay. The Haltimores refused to go on with the game until Capt Robinson and Manager Hanion had a consultation with President N. E. Young. Then, after a consultation with some of the New York players, the game was started, Capt Robinson of the Baltimores announcing that the series would be for the cup under League rules and regulations.

The night that the fourth and final game was played at the Polo Grounds two New York players gave the above facts to The Sun man, and the story was published in The Sun a day later. It was promotify denied by all of the New York players in question and by nearly every newspaper in town. At the League meeting in November Keeler told The Sun reporter that Doyle had repudiated his agreement with him, and had refused point blank to pay over the money. It was also learned that nothing had passed between the other players. Since the original agreement was made in Baltimore The Baltimore players again caused to be published last spring that unless a settlement was made by the four New York players in question, they would be arrested the first time they came to Baltimore. Later all but Metiraw admitted that such a threat had not been made.

On July 4 last, according to the Baltimore players, the New York yorks agreed to settle. In an interview with THE SUN man recently, McGraw said:

"I knew Davis would not go back on his word, for he came to me during the first series the New Yorks played in Baltimore and told me he would settle up. He said that he dain't have the money then, but I said I was willing to wait three years, as long as he agreed to pay me when he could." McGraw also said that Rusie had agreed to pay Kelley, and that Meckin had already settled with Gleason by paying him $50, but that Doyle denied all knowledge of an agreement with Keeler, Gleason also stated that Meckin had settled by paying him $50, and Kelley said that Rusie had promised to make good too. In regard to Doyle, Billy Keeler said to THE SUN reporter:

"I had a distinct understanding with Pools."

When the reporter asked Davis about ten days ago whether he had agreed to settle with McGraw, George said:

"No, sir; and, what is more, I never promised to settle while in Baltimore, as he says I did, because I did not necompany the New Yorks there on the first trin. I did not make any promises to him on July 4 either. In fact, I had no agreement with him, for when the first Temple Cun game was about to begin I said to McGraw, 'Everything is off between us.' I had made a partial agreement to divide, because I thought I would make McGraw play, and I didn't want to have the series called off, When I told him that our agreement was at an end, he said nothing. If he tells you that I agreed to settle with him since then, he does not tell the truth. I do not believe Meekin has settled with Gleason; and as for Kelley and Rusic, I know that Rusic up to a week ago had not admitted that he had an understanding with that Baltimore player."

Jack Doyle, when questioned about the matter, simply said that he never made an; agreement with Keeler, that he owed him nothing, and that he wouldn't give "such nonsense a moment's consideration." It is said that Meekin denied in Pittsburgh that he had paid a cent to Gleason, but the latter declares that he will take an afficavit he did. It is also said Rusie has told some intimate friends that he will settle with Kelley.

The action of the Baltimore Club officials in permitting such a proceeding by McGraw is likely to cause a serious row between Von der will settle with Kelley.

The action of the Baltimore Club officials in permitting such a proceeding by McGraw is likely to cause a serious row between Von der Horst and Freedman. At the offices of Stein & Rushmore, the New York Club's attorneys, it was said yesterday afternoon that all arrangements had been made to vacate any suit brought by any Haitimore players on account of the Temple Cupaffair. Rusiness Manager Watkins, who is with the New Yorks, telegraphed to the lawyers in the morning asking for instructions, and he was advised to consuit with the firm's Baltimore correspondents.

When President Byrne of Brooklyn learned of McGraw's action has night he said:

"This whole business is a disgrace to baseball. Had the public known hast fall that such agreements existed between the New York and Baltimore players the games would have received the cold shoulder. It is always the case that when ball players have a little leway they never fail to make a botch of things. Such disspaceful proceedings should be frowned down, and it would not be surprising if in the future the Temple Cup games should be abolished altogether."

WHAT BYRNE WOULD DO.

to May About the Temple Cup. President Byrne has not changed his idea regarding the disposition of the Temple Cup. Two weeks ago the President of the Brooklyn Club created something of a sensation by stating that the club winning the championship this year must meet the New Yorks in the extra series to be played after the regular schedule of games is played. At the League meeting to be held next Monday the matter will be settled, and, if President Byrne has anything to say, the Temple Cup will leave this city only on condition that the club finishing first defeats the New Yorks in the extra series. Mr. Hyrne talked in a very determined manner to a reporter of THE SUN Yester-

"If the New York Club give up the cup to be played for by the clubs finishing first and secand, they will be committing a very foolish set, ey should retain the trophy until they lose it the same mainer that they won it." Cannot the Lesgue compel the New York ub to give up the cup." Mr. Byrne was ged. "Certainly not," was the reply, "It's the New York Club's personal property, and the League has no right to force the club to return what rightfully belongs to them. Hind the Brooklyns finished in second place and beaten the Balti-mores, as the New Yorks did, I would only give mores, as the New Yorks did. I would only give more, as the New Yorks did. I would only give up the trophy on condition that the team were beaten in an extra series by the club finishing first this season."

"Suppose Mr. Temple should decide that the clubs fluishing first and second should play for the cup, what then would be the result?" asked the reporter. the cop, what then would be the result?" asked the reporter.

"Mr. Temple has no more say in the matter," replied Mr. Byrne. "The cup was presented to the League without any conditions whatever. The League would have been better off had they never accepted the cup. The gift has cre-ated any amount of dissension. Last season the players of the two competing clubs wran-gled over the division of the receipts, and now it has been revived again." gled over the division. The composition has been revived again.

Mr. Hyrne was asked whether he thought the New Yorks would be one of the contestants in the cup series next fall. This put the little President in a deep study for a moment. Then he suddenly walked away, saying, as he went, "I don't know."

The Brooklyn-Pittsburgh Came of June I Will Probably Be Played Over Again.

The Brooklyn-Pittsburgh game played at Eastern Park on Saturday, June 1, which was won by the Brooklyns, 11 to 4, will in all probability be ordered to be played over by the League's Board of Directors. It will be remembered that during the game in question Dono-van of the Pittsburghs was on second base when rain fell and time was called. When play was resumed Donovan walked to second base, first outhing third, and was declared out by Umpire Murray when he was touched with the ball by Griffin, who claimed that Donovan was out un-der rule 47, which reads:

"The base runner must touch each base in regular order, and when obliged to return (exregular order, and when obliged to return (except on a four sit) must retouch the bases in reverse order."

Manager Mae at the time protested the game, claiming that rule 47 didn't cover the case at all, and showing that under rule 50, section 14, which follows, Donovan was not out:

"The base runner is out if when the umpire calls 'play after any suspension of a game he fails to return to and touch the base he occupied when 'time' was called before touching the next base."

Mack claimed that Donovan couplied with this rule by touching third base and not first, as Griffin claimed he should have done under rule 47. Umpire Murcay recently made a statement to President N. E. Young admitting that he was in error, and President Byrne of Brooklyn Said yesterday:

"The game must surely be played over. The Brooklyn Club hasn't a leg to stand on, and when a mail vote is taken the game we won will be thrown out of the record. The decision didn't really affect the result of the game, as we won easily, but its technical misinterpretation of the rules and Pittsburgh's protest will hold good."

President Stucky on the Baseball Situation.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 12,-President T. Hunt Stucky of the Louisville Club, in discussing the subjects that will come before the meeting of the League magnates next week, said to-day:

"I favor the double-umpire system by all means, and I hope to see it in force next year. I think every League club should recommend three candidates for umpires and out of these twelve should be selected, the other applications twelve should be selected, the other applications to be placed on file in case a man selected does not come up to the requirements or a vacancy from other causes occurs. I do not mean that one man shall be selected from every recommendation, but twelve from the whole thirty-six, irrespective of what club sent the names in, the appointments to be based on ability.

"Regarding the Temple Cup series I think the New York Club should contest for it. In my opinion the first and second clubs must play for it. If New York defeats both it would be entitled to hold the cup another year. If not, the clubs winning the majority of games in the series from New York would then have to compete for it.

"I earnestly oppose the abolition of ladles' day. In my opinion it creates an additional interest in the game and causes the presence of women on other days. I think the clubs gain by admitting women free on certain days, as they are certain to induce some one with a paid ticket to accompany them, thereby getting men to go to the games who would perhaps not attend so often."

In a letter to Kid Lavigne, George Groves of Saginaw, writes that he is getting up an enter-tainment at Saginaw and that the principal attraction well be an eight-round bout between hick McAuliffe and Paddy O'Toole, a well known local light weight. The affair will be held on Aug. 15. O'Toole is said to be a very clever lad and is confident of beating Mo-Auliffe.

Auliffe.

Jack Everhardt's popularity is apparently on the wane. At Hoston recently he had a good chance to make some money by beating Biliy Hill, the "Pickaninny," who was willing to both in. Everything was arranged for a match. At the last moment Everhardt backed out, giving as a reason that he neard the "Pickaninny was a colored man. Boston sports say that Everhardt knew his all the time, for Le even wrote letters requesting a match with Hill.

Charlow McKeever of Philadelphia cannot wrote letters requesting a match with Hill.

Charloy McKeever of Philadelphia cannot imagine how it is that he is so unfortunate in getting some thing to do in the ring. He is avidently sincere in wanting a match, for his manager. John Clark, writes to The Sun from Philadelphia that McKeever has posted $250. McKeever wis hes to arrange a series of matches, such as boxing, punching the bag, hicyeleriding, and handball playing. McKeever is a clever has daali player, and is willing to meet two professional boxers at the old firsh pastime, best two out of three games, for $100 added.

AQUEDUCT OPEN AGAIN.

RACING RESUMED AT THE QUEENS COUNTY COURSE TESTERDAY.

Old Dominion Upset One of B. T. Pulsifer's Sure Things in the Opening Dash-Aurellan Too Speedy for Logan Purses for Emotional, Queen Bess, Mirage, and Ringlet-Jockey Weish's Case-Entries. Rain spoiled what promised to be the best

race at Aqueduct yesterday, and instead of a dozen horses of fair class going to the post for the third race, there were but three, and one of these, Clarus, was so completely outclassed by Aurelian and Logan that he cut no figure whatever in the contest. Aurelian won quite cleverly, with Logan in second place.

It was the opening day of the second division of the Aqueduct meeting, and the attendance was surprisingly good. A number of improvements have been made since the July meeting. and the track is becoming more metropolitan in Its aspect as time passes. The Sheriff of Queens county gave notice that he would enforce the law as regards betting with the utmost rigor, but Robert Pinkerton, who has charge of the gates, posted a notice to all that everything must be conducted strictly within the lines of the law, thus forestalling the Sheriff and his merry men. The track was heavy in spots after Sunday night's rain, and fast time was consequently out of the question. Gov. Sheehan was expected to win the opening dash at six furlongs, for which there were seven starters, Bel Demonio ranking next in public favor. "Bobby" Smith's broken-winded gelding, Old Dominion, however, upset the calculations of the faithful by rushing to the front in the opening furlong and winning as he pleased. Gov. Sheehan was second and Bel Demonio third. Old Dominion always had a penchant for a heavy track, and most of his best races have been on an oozy course. When he was the property of John E. McDonald he ran at Elizabeth in the spring of his three-year-old form and won by fifty yards with odds of 60 to 1 against him. His owner did not think he had a chance, but he found out conclusively that the half brother to Reclare was a mud runner to a certainty.

Mr. Rowe covered himself with glory by dispatching eleven two-year-olds in the second race to a prompt and even start. Ostler-Jos was the favorite, but the winner was Father Bill Daly's Emotional, a daughter of Sensation and Kittle Koerber. Keefe taking her to the front shortly after the flag fell and winning in a hard drive. Ostler Joe was second and Repea third. The fourth race found Queen Bess and Speculation about equally in favor. Delong's mare ran up to the form she showed at Brighton ran up to the form she showed at Brighton Beach and beat her competitors very cleverly, Golden Gate securing second place and Curious third. Speculation was absolutely last, and the old fellow has evidently seen his best days.

Mirage, the odds-on favorite, won the fifth race, at a mile and a furiong, in a gallon, defeating from Moore and Souvenir with the utmost case. Souvenir seemed to be hampered in the going and was always a bad last.

Marshall had to strike his colors in the concluding race to Kinglet. Kinglet was always a much higher class horse than the son of Voltigeur, and it was only a question of his not bleeding. Were it not for this unfortunate aliment Mr. Le Clair would have a very valuable piece of racing property. Sheedy let the horse gallop along in front of his field, and at the floish he was three lengths before W. H., who in turn beat Marshall half a dozen lengths for second money.

Jockey R. Doggett did not ride Speculation to suit the stewards, and he was called up before the tribunai after the fourth race. He said he had ceased riding when he was beaten, and did not care to punish the horse unnecessarily. He was instructed to ride his mounts out in future.

At a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club held yesterday, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resided. That in the matter of the suspen-

Club held yesterday, the following resolution was adopted:

"Ressired. That in the matter of the suspension of Jockey Welsh, which case was referred to the stewards of the Jockey Club by the stewards of the Brighton Beach Racing Association meeting, the stewards of the Jockey Club decided that there is not sufficient evidence presented to justify any sidditional penalty, and as no claim for the disqualification of the winning horse on account of four irding has been made, the stewards do not deem it necessary to take any further action."

Major Wheeler is the presiding judge at Aqueduct, with W. Crozier associate judge and cierk of the scales.

SARATOGA, Aug. 12.-A fair crowd witnessed the races here to-day. A padded over-night card assumed its normal proportions when the usual amount of scratching was done. Owing to the heavy rain of last night the track was in very poor condition.

The principal event down for necision was the Saratoga Prizo Handicap race of the value of $2,350, but it was robbed of much interest, as only three candidates faced the starter. The winner turned up in Rey El Santa Anita, who came strong in the last furions, and defeated Lize by a length. Sir Excess was third, a length and a half away. Chorn, who rode Sir Excess, was suspended for three days for his bungling ride on Mr. Rogers's norse. Summary:

SARATOGA'S RACING GOSSIP. Mr. Belmont Expected-$3,500 Bet on the Futurity. SARATOGA, Aug. 12.—August Belmont, President of the Jockey Club, is expected here to-morrow. It is said that he comes on a special mission to look into the reports anent the viola tions of the betting laws and rules and regulations of the Jockey Club. The latest offence charged to the association here is that overcharged to the association here is that over-weights have not been posted publicly as pre-scribed by Jockey Club rules. Mr. Beimont is likely to have an interesting visit.

Doe Street, who was ruled off at St. Asaph for being concerned in the pulling of his filly Sum-mertime, is circulating a petition for reinstate-ment. The Doctor's main object is to be enabled to sell his horses. He has several fast ones in his string, including Gailiee, who is in grand shape.

his string, including Gaillee, who is in grand shape.

Bets on the Futurity are already in evidence. Bob Aikens, a well-known bettor, and Dave Gideon came together to-day, and argued as to the respective chances of Applegate and Hazlet in the big race. The result was a wager of $3,500. Aikens takes the Applegate end of it, presumably for John J. Mctafferty.

Phil Dwyer's crack Hanover coit, Handspring, was shipped to Sheepshead Bay to-day along with others in the Brooklyn turfman's string. Brown Dick sent Ben Brush and a number of other horses to the same track. Sam boggett arrived at the track this afternoon, but did not ride any. He will probably be seen in the saddle to-morrow. Hiley Grannan male one of his plunger bets on Waltzer in the opening dash to-day, driving the price down from 8 to 5 to 3 to 5.

Waltzer was easily beaten by Nick, who receded from even money to 7 to 2.

Buffalo's Meeting Likely to Result in a

BUFFALO, Aug. 12.—The Driving Park management were compelled to postpone the races scheduled for to-day on account of the poor condition of the track, caused by the heavy rains of yesterday and last night.

The four days' racing last week, while it produced some sensational performances, disclosed the fact that harness races are not a financial the fact that harness races are not a financial success under the anti-betting laws of the State. The Driving Park Association will probably less heavily by the meeting, and the horsemen themselves are not slow to express their disgnat at the absence of the peol box.

"When fixet my horses our of Huffalo I will never return until the law affecting betting is changed," said J. G. Taylor, owner of foe Patchen, and the other owners have reached the same determination.

(L.J. Hamilin says the continuation of harness races here will depend very largely on the result of the present meeting.

hartes Bates's Trotting-bred Park Horse Won the Ribbons at Long Branch. New York and Philadelphia horsemen dirided the honors about equally last week at the Monmouth County Horse Show. Joseph E. Widener, who was one of the judges in the classes for harness borses, headed the Quaker City contingent, and Charles F. Bates of the New York Coach Horse and Cob Company, carried off a majority of the ribbons won by metropolitan steppers. Bates had something to show in nearly every harness class. In the class for pairs over 15.3 hands, his Trilby and Little Billee won first prize, while his second team, Tam O'Shanter and Sweetheart, were second. In the class for cobe of the smaller type he swept the board again, getting first prize with the beautiful mare Violet, and second with her mate, Wild Rose. In the competition for uni-

Bates won the blue ribbon with a spanking trio of bays, and his Aristocrat and Autocrat captured the special prize offered by Edward F. Murnhy for the best pair of high steppers shown to mail phaeton. Among the other
Horse and Cob Company were the handsome trotting road team lone and Luella: the tandems Acrobat and Autocrat, and Sweetheart and Tam O'Shanter, and the park horses Jim Corbett and Mollie O., all of whom were
"piaced" in several classes.
Carriages and traps from the leading New York repositories were strongly in evidence at the Long Branch show. A number of new ideas in carts, brakes, and phaetons by H. McLaughlin & Co. of Broadway and Fifty-first street, were brought out by Messrs, Bates and Widener
during the week. The popular Kearney fourwheeler, designed and built by Van Tassell & Kearner of East Thirteenth street, was also among the smart traps seen in the show ring.

The special sale of second-hand carriages at the Newark factory of J. M. Quinby & Co. is is likewise making a clearing-out sale of secoond-hand carriages and traps.
